Subject: timeline for formaldehyde/hair smoothing products

Hi Nakissa,

I hope all is well.

During the call on 8/3, the group discussed a plan to come up with a timeline for the proposed formaldehyde rule by the end of August.

So, I'm taking a stab at putting together a rough set of dates -- just to get the ball rolling and have something for everyone to comment on.

I would really appreciate your input: if you have an idea when the safety assessment might be good to go and a sense when an initial draft of the rule might be passed along to ORPSS, this would give me a good place to start.

Again, nothing is firm – just looking for a rough gauge.

Thanks very much,
Allison
